Runberg Architecture Group

Seattle-based Runberg Architecture Group promoted Jason Tran to senior associate. Tran started at Runberg as a summer intern in 2014. He has worked on a range of multifamily residential properties, from low-income housing to luxury high-rises. In his new role, he is responsible for moving projects from initial design through construction. He is project architect on the 771-unit Grand Street Commons for Lake Union Partners and Mt. Baker Housing in Judkins Park, and has worked on Hobson Place, Tony Lee, An Lac and Cascade. Runberg designs mixed-use urban environments.
