

Helping Business do Business Since 1893

September 13, 2018

Mercy Housing groundbreaking

Groundbreaking is set for 11 a.m. Sept. 18 for Mercy Housing Northwest's 95-unit supportive housing project at 2870 S. Hanford St. Mount Baker Family Housing & Resource Center was designed by Runberg Architecture Group and Walsh Construction will build it. Mayor Jenny Durkan, Bill Rumpf from Mercy Housing and Bill Hilf from Vulcan will attend. Paul G. Allen's family foundation contributed $30 million to the project, which also benefits from $5 million from the Seattle Office of Housing and $10 million in tax credits. The former National Pride Car Wash site is one block south of Mount Baker Station. Completion is expected in 2020.

Mount Baker Family Housing & Resource Center

[\[enlarge\]](#)

Copyright 2018 Seattle Daily Journal of Commerce